The U.S. Probation & Pretrial Services Office for the U.S. District Court, District of Massachusetts, is looking for a qualified individuals for a Probation Officer Specialist position in Boston, and Worcester Massachusetts. Probation Officer Specialists report directly to one, or more, Supervisor United States Probation Officers. This vacancy is open to current U.S. Probation and Pretrial Services Officers only.

SPECIALIST

The specialist, in conjunction with other specialists, is a resident authority for the district in supervising individuals with specialized risk/need areas (e.g., drug, alcohol, mental health, location monitoring as well as sex offenders), in addition to performing functions of a line officer. The incumbent must carry at least a 50 percent caseload, spending at least 50 percent of their time working with persons under supervision. This position is considered hazardous duty, which requires irregular work hours, to include nights, weekends, and holidays. The specialist position requires regular contact with persons who have violent backgrounds. These contacts may be made in both generally controlled office settings as well as in field situations such as uncontrolled and unsafe neighborhoods/environments where illegal activities and violence may occur. Specialists maintain current knowledge of national policies and procedures and remains current regarding developments in treatment services, community resources, contracting, drug testing, and/or technology associated with the specialized case type(s) under their supervision.

Duties and Responsibilities

The specialist manages a caseload that includes a significant proportion of offenders/defendants of a specialized type and serves as local experts on cases of this type. The specialist performs duties that involve high-risk issues, such as mental health treatment, substance and/or alcohol abuse, sex offenses, computer related crimes, and financial (white collar) crimes or cases with location monitoring conditions. The cases may be both pretrial and/or post-conviction and the geographical location of the cases may vary.

Duties may include, but are not limited to:

- Perform all duties and responsibilities of a United States Probation Officer at the CL-28 level.
- Supervise individuals with specialized needs and monitor compliance with conditions.
- Maintain compliance with national and local policies related to the supervision of specialized cases. Evaluate, modify, and/or develop procedures to help ensure compliance with supervision policies and other AO directives. Suggest and/or implement improvements and/or changes in practices, as needed.
- Ensure that required documentation in PACTS is standards compliant.
- Serve as a resource to other staff and the Court regarding specialized need cases.
- Guide, advise, train, and make recommendations to other officers, the Court, and other individuals in cases involving area(s) of specialization. Develop and share information regarding community and/or other relevant resources.
- Communicate with providers and/or other involved parties regarding individuals' treatment/service needs.
- Work closely with contract agencies and service providers to ensure compliance with the national contract. Extend technical assistance to contract agencies and service providers in areas such as program management, operative procedures, case management, and casework. Conduct regular monitoring visits of contract agencies and service providers as provided in the national policy.
- Participate in on-going training and education to further develop and/or enhance techniques and skills related to the monitoring and supervision of individuals in the area(s) of specialization. Provide management and staff with updates regarding changes in monitoring methods/technology.
- Generate and/or evaluate DSS reports as they relate to supervision needs and caseload management. Employ evidence-based practices in supervision/monitoring, as applicable.
- Train and/or supervise interns, as needed.
- Perform administrative duties regarding area of specialty.
- Perform other duties as assigned by supervisor or senior management which may relate to special needs cases and/or generalist cases, and/or other duties suited to senior/specialist USPO based on workload needs of the district.

U.S. Probation and/or Pretrial Services Officers transferring to our district are not required to undergo a medical examination, drug testing, or the initial OPM background investigation. However, it is at the discretion of the Chief U.S. Probation Officer for the U.S. Probation & Pretrial Services Office, District of Massachusetts, to request drug testing and/or medical examination if through direct observation or objective evidence, an officer is determined to be unable to perform the essential functions as defined in the medical guidelines.
